Busy week for Quest as two new Stadiums open using Quest Point of Sale on the same day on opposite sides of the World

Melbourne 23rd June 2003 – In what has been a busy week, Quest Retail Technology is pleased to report the successful opening of both The Home Depot Center in Carson, California USA, a mixed event Venue with Soccer, Athletics, Tennis, Velodrome etc and The Suncorp Stadium in Brisbane Australia, the premier Rugby and Soccer Venue in Queensland.

Both stadiums opened with barely a hiccup in spite of there being nearly 500 Quest Tills between the two sites, plus a complete array of the Quest's capabilities and Back Office software including Inventory, Suite Catering, Vending, RF In Seat Service, Fine Dining, Bars and Concessions. Just to add some more interest, there were of course the usual pressures of competing with construction workers for the timely hand over of the Food & Beverage areas.

In order to ensure successful operation of all equipment, some of it being deployed for the first time in a live Venue, as well as installation and commissioning staff, Quest despatched Senior Engineers and Support Staff from Head Office to both Venues to assist with the commissioning and start up. It is an achievement that is a credit to the entire Quest implementation team to not only get the logistics in place, but to also have such solid installations resulting in simultaneous, smooth and fully operational openings.

The Home Depot Center in California USA was carried out in association with Aramark and The Suncorp Stadium in Queensland Australia was carried out in association with Spotless Services Ltd.
